

American Oncology Network Announces Participation in the Enhancing Oncology Model

July 26, 2023

American Oncology Network partners with Thyme Care to provide cancer care support and navigation to patients.

FORT MYERS, Fla., July 26, 2023 – American Oncology Network, LLC (AON), one of the nation's fastest-growing networks of community oncology practices, announced its participation in the Enhancing Oncology Model (EOM), a new value-based cancer care framework launched by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI), to improve health outcomes and reduce total costs of care.

Cancer is one of the biggest drivers of healthcare spending, costing the United States more than \$200B per year. Although patient navigation services are proven to lower cancer care costs, scaling these interventions has been difficult, if not impossible, in today's fee-for-service environment. To address the rising costs of cancer and improve care quality, CMMI launched the EOM on July 1st, 2023, a five-year voluntary program for oncology practices.

Built on the successes of and lessons learned from its predecessor, the Oncology Care Model (OCM), EOM is indicative of an industry paradigm shift towards value-based cancer care. EOM continues to focus on improving the alignment of quality, access and cost through payment incentives for care quality, 24/7 patient-focused care navigation services and addressing health equity.

"Oncology is facing an inflection point as the industry moves toward value-based care. AON is proud to be participating in the EOM," said AON Chief Medical Officer Stephen "Fred" Divers, MD. "We look forward to realizing the goals of EOM as a network and leading the charge toward value-based cancer care."

AON will partner with Thyme Care to reduce the total cost and improve the quality of care for AON patients. Thyme Care is a leading value-based cancer care partner, providing comprehensive cancer care support and navigation beyond the clinic for AON patients. As part of the partnership, Thyme Care will facilitate AON's cancer clinics located across the country to participate in the EOM.

"Thyme Care's platform of analytics and nurse navigation will provide data-driven solutions for our team of providers to ensure that patients treated in our network will maintain access to the highest standards of oncology care in a cost-effective manner while closing gaps in the care continuum and addressing any health equity disparities," said Divers.

The Thyme Care team serves as an extension of AON practices and offers their patients a dedicated team of nurse practitioners, oncology nurses and on-demand resource specialists who can help them navigate the clinical, emotional, psychological and social barriers to care. AON oncologists will continue to lead clinical decision-making, while Thyme Care will provide these navigation services and staff.

Additional resources and support services for transportation, housing, food, behavioral health, financial assistance and more are provided to patients and their caregivers to help reduce any barriers to care. Thyme Care's robust data and analytics capabilities will provide continual performance monitoring insights that drive practice transformation and enable AON to make data-driven decisions when selecting their preferred risk arrangement as part of their participation in the EOM. The collaboration enables both teams to provide more efficient care, proactively identify barriers to treatment and deliver clinical interventions before a patient ends up in the emergency department.

"We're thrilled to partner with AON's organization of community oncologists who are at the heart of delivering cancer care and therapies in their communities. It's an honor to work alongside them to ensure all cancer patients have access to the support and resources they deserve," said Bobby Green, MD, co-founder, president and chief medical officer of Thyme Care. "Together with AON, we can accelerate EOM to achieve a better patient experience, better outcomes and lower costs of cancer care."
